

What's Happening with Loyce?

Happy New Year ~ 2011

What a year 2010 has been! After Leo's death someone asked me if I would be moving from Hammond? My response was that I thought perhaps that move might be "upward" for I didn't plan on any move at my age! God had other plans. In May, 2010 my property in Hammond sold at an alarming speed and Jill and I were on our way to Bartlesville, OK, north of Tulsa just south of the border of Kansas. I didn't remember how the cold wind blows in OK. (I have not lived here for some 52+ years). This Louisiana girl's blood doesn't move as it did when I lived here so long ago.

With the help of Jill, my nephew Alan, and the Armstrong Van Lines, we made it back to OK, bought a condo and "down-sized" from 2,200 sq. ft. in Hammond to 2,800 sq. ft. in Bartlesville! *smile* My brother-in-law, Frank, has done a wonderful job of remodeling the downstairs for me. I now have room for lots of company whenever any one would like to come for a visit. You are always welcome. I was able to purchase a few extra pieces of furniture at estate sales and had the tree up in time for company and the holidays!! My dog, Cocoa Bean, Maggie's dog, Nigel, Jill and I are at home!

This past year found Leo's library in its new home as well. His library is now on the shelves of the South Western Baptist Seminary in Ft. Worth, TX. Dr. Paige Patterson graciously accepted them for use in the library and I pray future students might find good use of the books that Leo loved so much.

I'm prayer chairman of the Women on Mission at my church. Jill and I are activities directors for our Canterbury Square housing development. I am consultant to Good News in Action, a member of a ladies SS class and my church membership is now at FBC of Bartlesville, OK.

Petroleum Museum and we have access to beautiful Tulsa! Tulsa affords us good airline connections and good roads from most anywhere you live. Our door is always open.
